These fine photographic views of Ships, Officers, Crews, Guns and other pictures illustrating nearly every phase of the present war, have afforded present information and enjoyment to large numbers of WHIG readers. As time passes, and the scenes they so faithfully portray become historic, their value will be even more fully realized by the fortunate possessors. There has been nothing published that approaches them in comprehensiveness.

The success attending the publication of each succeeding number of this WAR PORTFO-LIO has necessitated several repetitions of our order in each case and the total of those sold has far exceeded expectations.

We now have a few odd numbers of this interesting portfolio. | The supply of completo sets is exhausted and no further orders for full sets will be accepted. Those who have incomplete sets should at once send their orders
